

Day One

Start by reading Genesis 1-2. Before you read, ask yourself the following questions. What do these chapters tell me about the character of God? What do they tell me about the nature of humankind?

Listen to the episode. Then write your answers to the above questions in the box below.

Reflection: What particular characteristic of God draws you into worship? Is it God's enormous power? His creativity? The enormous variation he has written into creation? His mercy towards us? Choose one of these characteristics, and then choose a psalm as the basis for worship. Possible psalms: 8, 66, 113. These are great psalms that focus on the God of creation. Prayer.

Day Two

Read Genesis chapters 3-5. Before you read, ask yourself the following questions. What exactly is going on in the dialogue between the serpent and Eve? And in the dialogue between God and Adam, Eve and the serpent? As you read the curses, how do you see them exhibited in our world today? How do you respond to the first murder?

Listen to the episode. Read the following questions, and write your answers in the box provided Reflection: What has God taught you in these chapters? Do you see God's mercy or his judgment? Or both? Choose a verse, and meditate on it, asking God to reveal an aspect of his character to you. Prayer.
