

The Parable of the Good Samaritan: Luke 10.25-37

1. Constant Gardener as a reminder of the cost of compassion. If you have limits to how far you will go to help people, what are they?

2. If you find yourself justifying yourself, what does that say about you?

3. How is God speaking to you today regarding your compassion for those around you, the outsiders, the world?

4. The parable focuses on the issue of loving your enemies: Who are your enemies? What does it mean to love your enemies? For you personally.

5. Name one thing that you will do today to love your enemy. Tell the group. Or commit today before God that you will follow through on your good intentions. Write it below.
